Big picture

Time period 	Key developments
1969–1995	Terry seems to have a pretty normal life during this period. He is raised a Catholic but becomes an atheist around 1990. He goes to college at Arizona State University and earns both a bachelor's and master's degrees. He begins his career as an intern at Ticketmaster.
1996–2003	Terry begins to be afflicted by various mental conditions around this period, possibly including mania, paranoia, and schizophrenia. He continues to hold a couple of jobs, but relatively little is known about this period.
2003–2010	Terry begins to develop what would eventually be called TempleOS. Very little is known about this period.
2011–2017	TempleOS development continues, but seems to finish by the end of 2014. During this period, Terry begins posting in various online discussion platforms, including Twitter, Hacker News, Reddit, Stack Overflow, Quora, and Facebook.

Year	Month and date	Event type	Details
1969	December 15	Personal	Terrence Andrew "Terry" Davis is born in West Allis, Wisconsin. ^{[1][2][3]}
1970	January 4	Personal	Terry is baptized at St. Leonard's Catholic Church in Muskego, Wisconsin. ^[4]
1980s		Career	At some point during his teens, Terry "bagged groceries and taped drywall and worked in a deli". ^[5]
1987		Personal	Terry apparently sees Heart in concert. ^[6]
1988	May 15	Personal	Terry receives his Sacrament of Confirmation at the St. John Vianney Catholic Church in Goodyear, Arizona. ^[4]
1988		Personal	Terry claims he cheated on two problems on the SAT by "talking in the hall during the break". ^[7]
1988	fall	Career	Terry begins college at Arizona State University. ^[3] He is in the initial honors cohort at ASU. According to Terry, he lives in McClintock Hall where "there were 20 guys and 200 women because they were phasing them out and making it an honors dorm". ^{[8][9]}
1990–1996		Personal	Terry claims he "was as atheist as they came" during this period. ^[10]
1990–1996		Personal	Sometime during his "atheist days", Terry plays in a band that has a groupie named Mel ("short for Melissa"), who is reportedly "into witchcraft" and not "very attractive". As Terry's involvement in the band ends, the band leader informs Terry that Mel wants to perform oral sex on Terry. Terry calls this sexual encounter "a disaster". ^{[11]:48–50} Later he says "Mel was a sympathy fuck sort of". ^[12]
1990–1996		Career	Terry works at Ticketmaster. ^[13] He claims he was "basically, an intern" (in the beginning?). ^[14] He works as a software, hardware, and mechanical engineer. ^[15] During 1990–1994 he works on Ticketmaster's VAX operating system and ticketing system. During 1994–1996 he switches to the hardware department; he says he works on "a bar code reader, a laser ticket printer prototype and a wall line voltage conditioner" but none make it to production. He also works on an "RS232 bar code reader network device" that makes it to production. ^[16]
1991		Personal	Terry apparently has a girlfriend around this time. ^[17]
1991	fall	Personal	Terry gets a grade of C in partial differential equations. ^[3] "C in partial differential equations was the semester I did 20 days hotel time in jail." ^[18] "That was the semester I went to jail at nights." ^[19]
1992	December 18	Career	Terry receives his Bachelor of Science in Engineering (Computer Systems Engineering major) from Arizona State University. ^[3]
1992	December	Career	Terry graduates from Arizona State University. ^[13] After graduation Terry stays in Tempe, Arizona to continue working at Ticketmaster. ^[2]
1994		Career	Terry writes SysSim, a physics simulator, while working on his master's degree. SysSim would later be expanded and renamed to SimStructure. ^[16]
1994	December 16	Career	Terry earns his master's in electrical engineering from Arizona State University. ^{[2][3]}

Year	Month and date	Event type	Details
1993 (approximate)		Personal	Terry gets a 486. ^[14] Of this period, Terry says: "I have fond memories of 1993, when I made a wire-wrapped ISA data acquisition card which plugged into my 486 and had some analog-to-digital and digital-to-analog convertors." ^[20] Details of this year are repeated elsewhere: "I started my operating system in 1993 when I had real mode DOS." and "I had just got a 486 and I wanted to get to 32-bit mode like [the] 32-bit VAX at work." ^[21]
1994		TempleOS development	Terry begins working on Terry's Protected Mode Operating System (TPMOS). ^[16]
1996–1997		Career	Terry designs a "3 axis stepper-motor-driven milling machine" for a company he starts called Home Automation and Robotic Equipment (H.A.R.E.). ^[15]
1996	middle of the year	Personal	Terry "started seeing people following [him] around in suits and stuff". He leaves Arizona in his car and ends up in Marfa, Texas. ^[2]
1996	July	Personal	Terry's mental state calms and he returns to Arizona. ^[2]
1996–2003		Personal	Terry apparently has a manic episode every six months during this period. ^[2]
1997–1999		Career	Terry works for Xytec Corp., ^[15] which he calls "a company porting image processing software to Linux from Sun and doing support for the guys making the FPGA's for image processing". ^[16]
1999–2001		Career	For four months sometime in this period, Terry works at a deli. ^{[11]:38}
1999	September 9	Personal	Terry allegedly runs over a CIA agent with his car. ^{[22][7]} This episode is often repeated.
2000–2001		Career	Terry writes SimStructure, a physics simulation software, for H.A.R.E., his company. ^[15] SimStructure was originally written in 1994 and called SysSim at the time. ^[16]
2000	October 7	Personal	Terry is registered to vote starting this day. He is registered to vote in Clark County, Nevada. As of November 2017 his voter status is listed as active. ^[23]
2001–2002		Career	Terry works as the head software/electrical engineer for Graphic Technologies, ^[15] which he calls "a company doing chips to allow printer cartridges to be refilled". ^[16]
2001	April 14	Online activity	The first Internet Archive snapshot of the H.A.R.E. SimStructure website is from this day. ^[24]
2002	May 10 – September 3	Personal	Terry exchanges a series of emails with someone from Graphic Technologies. These emails are made available in a 128-page Word document called "Ira 2002.doc". Note that there could have been more emails in this period not included in the document, as well as emails outside of this time period. ^[11]
2003	July 13	Online activity	The first Internet Archive snapshot of Terry's subdomain on the H.A.R.E. website is from this day. ^[25]

I don't know. Anyway, so that's a downer, my dying Percival."

[...] Percival started coughing up blood about a month ago. Then he got a little bit better. But I think he's gotten worse. So ... this is kind of a death watch. So I'm waiting for him to die. [laughs] I live in kind of an old environment. All I do is go to dentist and doctors. My parents go to dentist and doctors. And that's all we do. We watch TV. They go to the casino. [...] I feel like I've ... I don't really have any ... But, I made God's temple and now I'm waiting for something to happen. I've been fighting to bring it to fruition but ... I'm in some kind of prison or something so basically now I just kinda ... kill time. But, I'm God's high priest, so, there's nothing better to do with your time than kill time with Mr. God and enjoy divine intellect all day long. But I live in a very kind of a old ... I think I like it. [laughs] Now that you mention it. I'm glad that there aren't any kids in my life. [...] If you have a tooth crowned or something, I think teeth are the first reminder of mortality. I think that's when it begins to hit you. Because they don't come back, and that's it. So, I don't know when my bird's gonna die. So this is kind of weird. I don't think I've ever seen a dead body. So this bird's taking months to die. You know this is something that happens all over the world all the time."

Someone gave me a warning about getting locked up at the mental hospital, so I thought about that and, so I came home and late last night and decided, you know, as crazy as it sounds, maybe I'd better take my meds so I did that right – the meds are really awful, they make you impotent and I just realized the other thing they do is they give you a horrible diabetic headache – they mess with your blood sugar, so after you eat your first meal and all of the sudden you get some kind of headache. Risperdal messes with blood sugar, makes you impotent. So anyway, but I thought no I don't wanna get locked up. I forgot about the headache though, fuck."
